PATENTS.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE,

And Agency of the U S Patent Office, Washington

22 State Street—Boston.

THE subscriber by appointment from the Commissioner of Patents is Agent of the U S Patent Office for the purpose of procuring and forwarding to the seat of Government specimens of ingredients and manufactures as shall be intended to be patented or designed therein, which will be received and forwarded, free of expense and risk, to their owners, and with all possible despatch. The subscriber will prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings, will make researches into American and Foreign works, or establish the validity or utility of inventions and render advice on all legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there usually, as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. The experience of fifteen years practice, an extensive collection of new works, Periodicals, Reports &c in mechanical subjects in the Patent Office, and patents of different countries collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, and to which daily additions are being made together with accurate Models of inventions patented at Washington, enable me to afford important assistance and information to inventors in cases of obtaining Patents which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

SATURDAY, MARCH 4 1848.

WHIG CAUCUS.

THE WHIGS OF BANGOR—one and all—are notified that there will be a Public Caucus of the Party at the CITY HALL, on SATURDAY EVENING, March 4th, at half past seven o'clock to take into consideration the subject of the approaching Municipal Election—to choose a City Committee—and to take such measures for nominating candidates and making such arrangements for securing their election, as may be deemed proper

Per Order of the Whig City Committee

Bangor Feb 28 1848

Whig Caucus, this Evening.

The election of city officers will take place on Monday, the 13th inst The Locos at their caucus on Saturday evening last by the hard drumming of one section of the party to beat down the other section succeeded in getting together a large number of all sorts and feeling a little strong, under the lead of the ex Judge proceeded to nominate their candidate for Mayor, and thus to place the municipal election on the basis of a thorough party issue No course now remains for the Whigs but to proceed at once in their caucus to morrow evening to the nomination of a Whig candidate for the office of Mayor and to make all the necessary preparation for conducting the election of municipal officers upon party grounds

It is very desirable in the selection of a new man for Mayor that there should be a full meeting of the Whigs, in order to the selection of the right man and to secure harmony in his support at the polls Let the Whigs therefore throughout the city one and all resolve to meet at the City Hall this (Saturday) evening Let there be a friendly reunion after the olden time and the beginning of a brilliant series for the approaching Presidential campaign

Political Economy for the United States.

Calvin Colton, Esq the gifted author of the Junius Tracts Life and Times of Henry Clay Rights of Labor &c has announced that he has prepared a work designed to unfold the resources of the United States on the great subject of what is commonly called "Political Economy". It comprehends a full and complete system of public economy, adopted to this country, every part of which is attempted to be reasoned out, and proved by facts It reviews all the treatises on the subject, worthy of attention that have been written since the subject began to be discussed more especially since the free trade theory was propounded by Adam Smith seventy five years ago It makes more than a score of new points, not heretofore incorporated in any system of public economy, more than half of which pervade the whole work as principles — For example, one of them is, that public economy is not a science composed of the same and uniform propositions, every where and in all time as claimed by the free trade economists, but that its propositions are necessarily contingent on the peculiar position, peculiar interests, and peculiar institutions of the country to which they are applied It will be seen, that this single point, as a principle, imparts an entirely new character, both to the subject and the argument, as compared with the mode of treating it as a science, which is always composed of the same and invariable propositions It annihilates the entire theory of free trade, which claims to be a science, and nullifies all its deductions, as such At least half the other new points, made in this work, are equally pervading, and equally influential on the general argument

The importance of a work of this kind, in this country will doubtless be appreciated by those who have thought on the subject, as a great want in our literature No work of this precise character, indeed, has ever been attempted, in this country or in any other

Mr Colton has brought to this work, a mind thoroughly trained and admirably adapted to such investigation He has been employed upon it for many years The work will be published as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained to warrant it All persons wishing for the work a handsome Octavo, of not less than 500 pages, at $2 00, can leave their names at this office, or forward them to A S Barnes & Co, N Y

Straws show which way the wind blows.

At the Loco District Convention on the 1st inst, Mr Shaw of Penobscot was chosen a delegate to the Baltimore Convention Mr Shaw is said to be a pro-slavery man Before the convention assembled, it was said somewhat boastingly that nine tenths of the Democratic party were Wilmot Provisoists But after the delegates at Corinth had breathed the air of the convention half an hour the above result was effected If the convention had lasted two days, the nine tenths would probably have been reversed

This talk among the Locos about the Wilmot Proviso, is a sort of fancy stock, and is only permitted at certain times, and for certain purposes generally to influence the votes of the Liberty party Some locos, very probably have been green enough to suppose the leaders sincere in the matter The branch of the Democracy which have favored the Wilmot Proviso is now dead It was strangled by the collar

☞ We mentioned a few days since that a lumber about the lumbering camps in the woods had struck a man with an axe nearly severing his arm from his body We have since learned that this lumber's name is David Keizer, who has served out a term of seven years in the State Prison for killing his father

It seems that he was loafing about one of the camps a few miles from Orono, and was ordered off, at which he became offended and swinging an axe near by, aimed a blow at the man's head, but another young man, cried out, and the man discovered what was going on, in season to dodge, and received the whole force of the blow upon his shoulder, cutting it very badly

Keizer has been arrested and is now in jail in this city awaiting his trial at the Supreme court.

Correspondence of the Boston Whig and Courier

WASHINGTON Feb 26

Two days ago I wrote you that Taylor stock was down—at this writing it is up again The proceedings of the Virginia and Kentucky Whig Conventions have given this Eastern cause a new impulse What we shall have next no one can divine One day it is Taylor, the next Clay and the next you will hear it whispered that probably Scott will be the man after all I have designed to give you a picture of matters and things political as they appear from day to day of the speculations as they rise and fall The strongest friends of Gen Taylor, and those who claim to know him best, insist that he is a decided Whig (the Locos call him a bitter Whig,) and that although he will not be regarded as the candidate of any party exclusively, he will yet make known his principles and that they will be found satisfactory to the great body of the Whigs throughout the country They agree that he must receive the nomination of the Philadelphia Convention in order to obtain the support of the Whig party As old Ritchie says, non est verrons

The funeral of Mr Adams, to-day was one of the most imposing ceremonies of the kind that ever took place in this country The concourse of people was immense But it was not the pageantry and display of the occasion—the impressive service—the solemn dirge—the long procession—the sea of faces—that interested and affected me so much as the associations connected with the name, the history the life and the death of the Patriot the Statesman and the Christian which rose as his mortal remains were borne away on the funeral car, from the scenes of his labors and renown The body was placed in one of the committee rooms in the Capitol where it was visited by thousands who were anxious to take a last look at the features of the departed statesman His countenance wore a calm placid and serene look; and the remark was frequently made that it looked more natural than it had for several days before his decease

They felt as though him dying when he slept,
And sleeping when he died.

It is amusing to notice the rumors and speculations that come back here from the Washington correspondent of the newspapers Two writers agree in the prediction as made at the same time, and he is a lucky man who hazards an assertion that is not blown to the winds before it can get back to its starting place The Treaty is the great topic of the politicians at this time They will tell you that Calhoun and his friends and the Wilmot proviso men will oppose it—that Foote of Miss. is against it, and Davis in favor of it Now I venture to say that if any one of those mentioned votes against it it will be the latter—and that Foote firebrand as he is will vote for it W

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N Y Express remarks that there is not moral or physical force enough in Congress to charge the Wilmot Proviso There are too many Northern men with Southern principles So long as we have a corrupt administration, so long may we expect such a sacrifice of principle to place Southern men as not expected either to take the initiative, or to carry out Administration views The policy was one man round the Southern States and the Southern institution, but from the North there is a score of men ready to be hewers of wood and drawers of water to the Southern allies

A statement which is perfectly true that the size of the Sun has decreased within a few weeks, has created some surprise among those who did not know that it was the "New York Sun" which was alluded to

☞ The Boston Transcript says that the Revenue Cutter Hamilton Capt Sturgis arrived at that port recently after a cruise of fifty days during which she had spoken and boarded 300 vessels to many of which assistance was rendered

General Taylor's Letter.

HEAD QUARTERS, ARMY OF OCCUPATION
Camp near Monterey Mexico, Aug 3, 1847

(Hon JOSEPH R. INGERSOLL)

SIR —

I have the pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of your esteemed letter of the 7th ult, which has just reached me, in which you say, "I had the honor of being called on last evening to address a mass meeting of the Whigs of the city and county of Philadelphia At that meeting, your name was frequently mentioned in connexion with the office of Chief Magistracy I stated to that meeting, as I had before stated in my place in the House of Representatives at Washington, that you were a Whig—not, indeed, an ultra, partizan Whig—but a Whig in principle" All of which is entirely correct

And after the discussion which occurred in both houses of Congress, at the last session, growing out of the capitulation of Monterey, on which occasion you thought proper to defend my conduct in regard to that transaction, when assailed, somewhat, if not entirely on party grounds, in the House, of which you were a member—for which you have my sincere thanks—which was done in such a way by those who disapproved that measure, I can hardly imagine how any one who was present and heard the speeches on that occasion, or read them after they were published, could well mistake the complexion of my politics

At the last Presidential canvass, without interfering in any way with the same, it was well known to all with whom I mixed Whigs and Democrats, for I had no confidence in the matter, that I was decidedly in favor of Mr Clay's election, and would now prefer seeing him in that office to any individual in the Union, certainly much more, by any time, to myself Independent of the great talents and long experience in government affairs, I consider his views and those of the Whigs, for the most part are more nearly assimilated, as regards political matters, to those of Mr Jefferson, than their opponents—in whose political creed I was reared, and whose opinions in matters of State, I have never lost sight of, as well as endeavored to conform to them as nearly as circumstances would permit My commission as Lieutenant in the army was conferred by him a short time before he retired from public life

Although no one can appreciate more highly than I do, the too favorable opinion I fear you have formed as regards my fitness for the first civil office in our country, (which I consider should I reach it, is rather too much of an experiment) as well duly grateful for your and in bringing me so prominently before the nation for the office in question, I cannot permit the present opportunity to pass by without repeating to you, what I have said to others on the subject of the Presidency — but I am no politician Near forty years of my life have been passed in the military service of the republic—nearly the whole of which in the field, the camp, on our western frontier, and in the Indian territory, I may, well say constantly on duty—the two last in Mexico, or on the tented earth during which time I have not passed one night under the roof of a house You may, therefore, very readily suppose, under such circumstances, I have had but little time to devote to the consideration or investigation of great political questions or subjects, or to their discussion, nor have I attempted to do so as to be mixed up with political measures in any way, not even having voted for one of our oldest statesmen since I joined the army, having, for the most part, been serving at stations beyond the limits of the States

I might say I have no ambition for the Presidency, and without support to the amount of the undivided of the people and I am sure no effort on my part made in the coming election, it must be borne in mind that I have been, or will be made so, by others, without any agency of mine in the matter. Independent of my wishes, I greatly doubt my want of the necessary qualifications to discharge the duties properly of any office which was filled and adorned by a Washington, a Jefferson, as well as several others of the purest, wisest, and most accomplished statesmen and patriots of this or any other age or country

I almost tremble at the thoughts of the undertaking, yet, if the good people think proper to elevate me, at the proper time, to the highest office in their gift, I will feel bound to serve them, if not from inclination, from a principle of duty, and will do so honestly and faithfully to the best of my ability, in accordance with the principles of the constitution, as near as I can do so, as it was construed and acted on by our first Presidents, two of whom at least acted no conspicuous part in making and completing that instrument, as well as putting it in operation

But very many and important changes may take place at home and abroad between now and the time for holding the election for our next chief magistrate so much so as to make it desirable for the general good, that some one with more experience in state affairs should be selected as a candidate than myself, and could he be selected, I will not say that I would yield my private views—for I have not the vanity to believe I have any for that distinguished station but would acquiesce cordially with pleasure in such an arrangement, but would reject that the republic had one citizen more worthy and better qualified than I am, to discharge the important duties appertaining to that position, and no doubt there are thousands

Be this as it may, if ever I occupy the White House, it must be by the spontaneous movement of the people—without any action of mine in relation to it—without pledges other than I have previously stated, a strict adherance to the provisions of the Constitution So that I could enter on the arduous and responsible duties appertaining to said office unfettered—so that I could be the President of the country, and not of a party

With consideration of great respect and esteem, I remain your obedient servant,

Z TAYLOR

We have some little glimmerings of peace — I have this moment received a note from Gen Wool commanding at Salt Lake, about 70 miles in advance of this place towards the city of Mexico, of which the following is an extract "I have but a moment to say I have received information through J Sanchez, that Gen Scott was still at Puebla on the 17th ult that the Mexican Congress had convened, and that it had conferred the power on Santa Anna to negotiate for peace subject to the approval of Congress, and that an armistice had been proposed This can be relied on, and must be gratifying to all lovers of peace, of which number I profess to be one of its most ardent admirers and advocates

Z T

Letter to Peter S. Smith.

This is a letter written in reply to one by Mr Smith who is editor of a Native American paper and which probably teazed the old General to be a candidate of that party

The whole matter respecting Gen Taylor is easily understood He is, as a citizen, an out and out Whig, well known and declared As a candidate for the Presidency, looking to the high responsibilities of that station—to the base manner in which the high powers have been abused by trucking to party, he declares that as President he must be the President of the country and not a mere exponent of a party These is no mysterious about this but a plain matter for every man to look squarely in the face

BATON ROUGE, La Jan 30, 1848

SIR Your communication of the 5th inst has been received, and the suggestions therein offered duly considered

In reply to your inquiries, I have again to repeat that I have neither the power nor the desire to declare to the American people the exact manner in which they should proceed to nominate me for the Presidency of the United States If they desire such a result, they must adopt the means best suited in their opinion to the consummation of the purpose, and if they think fit to bring me before them for that office through their legislatures, cross meetings or conventions I cannot object to the designations of these bodies as Whigs, Democrats or Natives but in being thus nominated, I must insist on the condition, and my position in this point is immutable, that I shall not be brought forward by them as the candidate of their party or considered as the exponent of their party doctrines

In conclusion, I have to repeat, that if I were nominated for the Presidency by any body of my fellow citizens, designated by any name they might choose to adopt, I should esteem it an honor, and would accept such nomination, provided it has been made entirely independent of party considerations

I am, Sir, very respectfully
Your obedient servant
Z TAYLOR

Kirkbride's Tattersall's HEAVE POWDERS:

A SAFE, SPEEDY AND PERMANENT CURE for Heaves, Broken Wind, Chronic Cough, Colds and all diseases which put the horse in the first stage of heaves. Also for diseases of the mucous membrane of the lungs, throat or head, which affect the Soundness of the Animal's Wind.

This remedy which has been used the last month with unparalleled success in England, is now offered to Horse owners on the United States in a powder ready for the table spoonful or horse ball as a preventive of all distressing complaints. For this combination of powerful vegetable ingredients in such compact form, it is enabled to compete successfully with diseases in the body contained in all the horse, and at the same time is warranted to be perfectly safe and genial to horse, giving by Horse and other cattle, and does not all new vigorous the animal of deriving him from usual labor. The following is one out of many proofs we have of its efficacy. It is from one of the best Physicians in New York, and a gentleman whose knowledge in the medical treatment of Horses is very extensive

New York, Nov. 1, 1847

Messrs A H Gough & Co

Gentlemen—You will recollect that I bought a package of your Heave Powders some time ago to administer to a valuable horse in livery in my stables, and that I was quite dubious of the wisdom of attempting to cure such a bad case as he was and did not, in fact believe there were any medicines better for his complaint than those I had had in a habit of using my extensive practice with Horses. But justice to you and your animal requires me to say that that single package cured the animal of an aggravated case of Heaves as I ever saw, and he is now a horse perfectly good. I believe the cure is permanent one

Respectfully, Dr FLOYD, 104 Lawrence st

Messrs A H Gough & Co—Gents I bought, about six weeks ago, a package of Heave Powders in order to administer to a horse who had been troubled with heaves for me of his own years. His case was a very bad one, and so much so as to incapacitate him from half his usual labor, and had resisted all the remedies ordinarily used for that disease, that I had no effect but to slightly diminish the violence of the heaving while taking the medicine, but that package of your remedy has completely eradicated the disease and now I would not accept of a sound horse if I was in want of one he has taken the Powders and I can warrant him sound

Respectfully, CLU W DAVIS

GREAT CONDITION MEDICINE

Besides their specific action upon diseases of the lungs and windpipe, the Horse-tail's Heave Powders, from the regenerative and restorative principles they are so effectual in horse or sheep as to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the removal of impurities of the blood and predisposition to disease. Many a case of founder has been prevented and cured by a few doses of the Heave Powders, when thrown into the feed that is given to the heated animal after a hard drive or exposure to inclement weather. They are warranted to cure the worst cough in a few days and will actually eradicate a recent cold by the use of 1 or 2 doses. As a condition powder they are unequalled, as exhibited when a high bred, staring coat is desired, or appetite is strengthened or the digestive functions of existence or limbs and so on in the animal economy called, as described in the following letter—

Messrs A H Gough & Co—This package of your Heave Powders which I bought of you about a month ago, has entirely cured him. He was troubled with a cough I expected. The disease of Leprosy from which he suffered was of long standing, and I believe there were gallons of water and phlegm and I believe there were gallons of the cough, such was the violence of it, but after the first package has entirely cured him. I therefore feel, for the benefit of mankind, that I should be wanting in my duty if I did not recommend your Heave Powders for the use of all people having horses
